Part 1: Update: U. S. Navy Flight Engineer Saw Silver Discs and Entrance to Alleged E. T. and Human Collaboration Base in Antarctica

“Talk among the flight crews was that there is a UFO base at South Pole and some of the crew heard talk from some of the scientists working at the Pole of E.T.s working with and interacting with the scientists at that air sampling camp/large ice hole.”

- Brian, retired U. S. Navy Flight Engineer

CONTEXT FROM ORIGINAL DOCUMENT

(PUBLIC DOMAIN) - 30 January 2015 — Retired US Navy Petty Officer First Class flight Engineer "Brian" tells ufologist Linda Moulton Howe he saw a large hole to an underground facility 5-10 miles from the geographic South Pole; he states the area was supposed to be a no fly zone but during an emergency medevac, they flew through the area. He also states at a camp near Marie Byrd Land, 10-15 scientists "disappeared for two weeks" on assignment and when they re-appeared "their faces looked scared," and he claims he saw silver UAP near the Transantarctic Mountain range in 1995-96 while he was flying on assignment. After seeing the hole in the ice, an "intelligence-gathering" type of individual sat his crew down and told them "OK, you guys saw this thing, but you did not see it."

Eighteen months after sharing his story, "Brian" claims he received an anonymous phone call that told him not to talk about the missing scientists and "certain people" would prefer that he not talk about it. The phone number was not blocked; he searched it after the call and it came up as a number associated with the NSA in Fort Meade, MD, he claims.
