Jack Sarfatti - his ideas about the Tic Tac came from "a phone call from an alien"

For some time now, U.S. physicist Jack Sarfatti has been speaking out about his thoughts on the 2004 USS Nimitz encounters, with what has come to be known as the "Tic Tac" UAP. In short Sarfatti postulates that there is:

"...evidence of extremely low power warp drive with time-travel-to-past capability in a meta-material fuselage controlled by a conscious AI post-quantum computer."

Who is Jack Sarfatti?

According to his LinkedIn page, Sarfatti was born 14 September 1939. He received a BA in Physics from Cornell University (1956-1960); an M. S. in Physics from University of California, San Diego (1965-1968); and a PhD in theoretical and mathematical physics from the University of California, Riverside (1968-1969.)

Career wise, the LinkedIn account tells us:

- * Sep 1967 - Jun 1973, Assistant Professor of Physics, San Diego State
- * Sep 1971 - Nov 1987, US Navy PACE -Instructor - teaching math to young sailors and marines onboard fighting ships at sea
- * Jan 1980 - Dec 1986. Science advisor to Lawry Chickering Institute for Contemporary Studies - ISB. Helped formulate the Strategic Defense Initiative behind the scenes for Paul Nitze, Cap Weinberger and POTUS
- * Jan 1996 - Present, CEO Sarfatti Group/ Internet Science Education Project.

His academic work

He has published numerous scientific articles, particularly in the areas of consciousness; quantum physics and astronomy. A sample of his work includes:

- * "Toward a unified field theory of gravitation and strong interactions" Foundations of Physics, Vol. 5, 301-307. 1975
- * "The Physical Roots of Consciousness" in Mishlove, J. "The Roots of Consciousness." Random House, 1975
- * "Can the electroweak unified force be used to neutralize nuclear weapons?" Defense Analysis, Vol. 2 Issue 1. pp49-51. 1986

His personal website, features information on physics, cosmology, advanced propulsion, meta materials, quantum computing; a section headed "UFO sightings map;" and a weird desk area which provides information about Bigfoot, UFOs, sea monsters etc. His own blog includes pieces on a wide range of subjects including Robert Bigelow; quantum gravity, interviews with Luis Elizondo; much about UAP physics and his own theories;

Where do his views originate?

I took a look back in the diaries of Jacques Vallee for the early history of where Sarfatti's ideas originated. There was an interesting diary entry in "Forbidden Science: Volume Three" (pp98-99) dated 27 July 1982:

"Walking through North Beach I passed Cafe Trieste where Jack Sarfatti was engaged in some passionate argument. He saw me and ran to catch me. So we ended up at Cafe Puccini, where I ordered a prosciutto sandwich and a cup of coffee, and listened to his theories.

Sarfatti's ideas are full of color, short on proofs. he 'confided' to me, as he does to everyone within earshot, that people close to Reagan, Meese and Caspar Weinberger support him; he hints he is close to Bechtel.

The wife of the American ambassador in Paris keeps calling him at Cafe Trieste and political pundit Bill Buckley listens to him. It is impossible to separate the real from the imaginary in all this.

Jack's life is a tapestry of stunning coincidences and romantic episodes. It is undeniable that he was a child prodigy. In 1953, age 15 (we are the same age) he was sitting in the Brooklyn library reading a math book on switching functions when he received a phone call from a mechanical voice that plunged him into a quasi hypnotic state. He only remembers one phone call but his mother states there was a series of them, always from the same bizarre voice.

The phone calls changed his life, he said. They led him to theorize about the energy of the vacuum and faster-than-light propulsion. He cites all the right authors, such as Coxeter, whose works I recently read. And he is certainly right when he says Einstein's theory is only a special case of a wider physics."

In an April 2006 article by Preston Dennett, in "FATE" magazine we learn:

"In 1952 and 1953, when I was about 12 or 13 years old, I received a phone call...in which a mechanical sounding voice said it was a computer on board a flying saucer. They wanted to teach me something and would I be willing? This was my free choice. Would I be willing to be taught - to communicate with them? I remember a shiver going up my spine, because i said, 'Hey man, this is real.' Of course, I was a kid...but I said yes."

Sarfatti was impressed. he ran and got his friends, and they gathered together in his bedroom, awaiting the upcoming promised contact. Unfortunately, nothing occurred, and Sarfatti assumed at first that it was just a clever practical joke.

At this point, his memory of the event strangely ends. But according to Sarfatti's mother, the first phone call was followed by a series of similar phone calls - each giving Sarfatti information that would leave him forever changed. Says Sarfatti, 'My mother remembers this experience very well. It turns out that I had forgotten most of it. This was really something that occurred over several weeks...'"

Here is another take on this series of phone calls:

"I was reading a book on computer switching circuits at home when the phone rang. I answered it and heard a strange sequence of clunking mechanical sounds. Then a metallic sounding voice comes on the line. A cold mechanical voice is the only way I can describe it. It gives a long series of numbers that I did not understand and then calls me 'Jack' and says it's a 'conscious computer onboard a spacecraft.' It may have said it was from the future, but I am not sure. However, that was the implication of what it said. Anyway, it says I've been selected to be one of '400 young receptive minds' to be part of a special project but that I must make the choice myself. The voice on the phone told me that I would begin to meet the others I was to work with in twenty years. I was scared and everything in me screamed to say NO! and hang up. I felt a strong jolt of electricity go up my spine to the base of my skull and I heard myself say YES. I was terrified and fascinated. The voice said 'Good, go out on your fire escape and we will send a ship to pick you up in ten minutes.' When I hung up I ran like a bat out of hell and found my friend Winky, who is now a homicide detective in Brooklyn. We, and a few other kids, went back to my apartment to wait for the flying saucer but it never came."

This then, was the beginning of Sarfatti's introduction to the topic.

So what was it than? A joke or Hoax done by military agencies? Cause they ve done and still re doing very weird stuff to make it sure to be the Ones on the top of the heap as mentioned in many documents. Its so odd what institutions doing when it comes to the alltime loved term for hiding things in plain sight.To be the Ones above all other nations.And to FOOL the own citizens and others too.Faked documents done by Miragemen like Doty from Afosi but also from all forces and agencies around earth.It seems as if they really must have cut down many trees for all their faked documents and files.And to stage hostile Alien abductions they ve surley used masks and devices directly out of Hollywoods backyards.Actors once ve claimed about it that there in Hollywood you can find more agents from the Cia as in langley.Guess Thats no coincidence at all.If all of that is true and real than we as earths normal citizens re knowing that there never were hostile Aliens here. The only one whos hostile since they crawled out from the caves always were the Humans here. And more more than more less.Its all about Control Power and wealth of the few rich Ones who own everything on earth.They really are the top of the heap here.And they ll do all they can to stay like that and increase their Powers and their grip upon us all and everything on earth here too.And the real Beings we re calling Aliens are actually Dimensionals. AND Earth always weren't even ours.Its theirs.Their realm.But for many Humans here its easier to believe in some space enemies.So they ve something to fear about and to fight to.Like always.And fear is one of the best way to take Control over the sheeps.

I had a similar thing happen but they did show up over a 6 day period my self and my wife seen 6 different crafts my mother in law seen one to they didn't take me away . The best experience anyone could have . I will never forget that time in my life . This happened in 2009 . I miss them and wish they would come back . And show them selfs to the world 🌍

Sarfatti is implying the "tic tac" is a time traveling ship sent from the future. The impression is it is being sent into our past to affect our time line. The lack of interaction with our military would indicate that there is an effort to avoid a "time slip" which could change the events of Earth's future.

lack of interaction, aside from politely maneuvering in front of our military's most advanced aircraft carrier for a time sufficient to analyze it, you mean?

On June 30 this year, just as I was about to drop off to sleep, I asked myself the question how can mankind get nuclear fusion to work.

The answer was instantaneous and astonishing:

"Have a look at anomalous data from experiments conducted in March 1970".

This was not a 'voice' - not a aural phenomenon, more a thought that extraneously popped into my stream of consciousness. I leave it here.

CONTEXT FROM ORIGINAL DOCUMENT

(PUBLIC DOMAIN) - 20 March 2020 — Physicist Jack Sarfatti states a metamaterial utilized by the Tic Tac UAP allows the craft to slow down the speed of light. Sarfatti states when a certain type of electromagnetic energy is sent into this metamaterial, it creates a resonance that “squeezes the space in front of it and stretches the space behind.”

He also claims the Tic Tac metamaterial came from “Earth humans” from the future and people from the future come back in time to create “past events” which in turns create a “Novikov loop” (a paradox where the origin of the event cannot be known). Sarfatti claims he is close to Bechtel, was close to the Reagan Administration and former SDI proponent and SecDef Caspar Weinberger, and states he received phone calls from a “mechanical voice” when he was young that put him into a hypnotic state where he was led to theorize about quantum vacuum energy and faster-than-light propulsion. Jacques Vallee states it was “undeniable” he was a child prodigy.
