

Monster "Hissed"

Campbell River, BC - March 28, 1963

Victoria Daily Times. Friday, March 29, 1963

CAMPBELL RIVER - The second sighting of a mysterious "sea monster" within a month was reported here Thursday.

Mrs. J. C. Durant of Shelter Point said the creature she saw was about 25 feet long, looked like a dragon, and made a hissing noise.

Three weeks ago another sighting of a similar unknown of the sea was reported in the same general area.

Campbell River resident claim the monster is named Klamahtosaurus, and was first seen by Indians 200 years ago. Residents of Southern Vancouver Island are more inclined to believe it is Cadborosaurus wandering from his normal haunts.
